QUADRUS CORPORATION ANNOUNCES NEW VP AND LOOKING AHEAD

Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 24, 2024 -- Quadrus Corporation has announced Patrick McKenzie as Vice President of Aerospace Business Development. The appointment went into effect January 8, 2024.

Mr. McKenzie has worked in the aerospace industry for more than four decades. For the past 20 years, he has focused on NASA, DoD, and Commercial business development and capture. He has previously been a successful executive at numerous space and defense companies, including Lockheed Martin and ASRC Federal. His accomplishments include a successful bid for the Crew Exploration Vehicle (Orion) while with Lockheed Martin and his time heading the new U.S. subsidiary office of RUAG, a Switzerland-based company, during which he led their support of Dynetics to secure the Universal Stage Adapter as part of NASA's Space Launch System (SLS). Mr. McKenzie has also been affiliated with the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA), the American Astronomical Society (AAS), and the International Aeronautical Federation (IAF) throughout his impressive career.

Quadrus Corporation, a company specialized in commercial software solutions, contract engineering services, integration, and advanced manufacturing techniques, is based in Huntsville, Ala. Mr. McKenzie's appointment is indicative of the company's upward and outward growth as they continue to impress customers nationwide. Mr. McKenzie's role shows not only that the company is looking at opportunities across the U.S. but indicates their intention to be known as a player on the global scale.

As Vice President of Aerospace Business Development at Quadrus Corporation, Mr. McKenzie will be responsible for proposal acquisitions and capture management along with developing, executing, and overseeing a business strategy that prioritizes growth and enhancing customer relationships. He will further develop the company's national and global reach. Mr. McKenzie will report to Greg Murin, Executive Vice President.

"With more than 30 years of experience in Aerospace business, Patrick has an expertise that gives him great insights and understanding of our customer's needs and requirements. Sustainability, reliability, and expertise are key priorities at Quadrus Corporation, and I am confident that, with the addition of Patrick to our team, he will continue to elevate our focus and enable our company and our industry to achieve a more sustainable aerospace future."
-Greg Murin, Executive Vice President

"Quadrus Corporation has grown at a high rate year over year since 2017 across all our lines of business. Adding Pat McKenzie to our team to spearhead business development of our aerospace and defense sector will accelerate our growth in Engineering Services, Advanced Manufacturing, Software Development, and Integration. He is an excellent addition to our team. Welcome aboard, Pat!"
